Join us November 16-18 in Seattle for the most important networking event of the charitable sector, where we will harness the spirit, creativity, and innovation of the Pacific Northwest. The conference, which is being held in collaboration with Philanthropy Northwest, will inspire new ideas, examine ways to achieve greater impact, strengthen the charitable community by sharing our struggles and solutions, and create opportunity for new collaborations that improve the lives of the people we serve.

The conference will be packed with sessions on everything from the from the next generation of evaluation to crafting your organization's stories to a first look at how the 2016 election will impact the charitable sector. It will feature a track of sessions specially curated by Philanthropy Northwest. And, it will feature insights and innovations from top thinkers from across the sector.
